

RELIEF MEASURES INJECT OPTIMISM

U. S. Agencies at Work To Bring Speedy Economic Recovery.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Administration of the gigantic laws enacted by congress to speed economic recovery proceeds apace these days, and today brought a goodly share of developments along with more optimistic soundings.

Immersed in the many ramifications of its task, the Reconstruction Corporation devoted primary attention to the railroad situation, and how wider employment could be provided by helping it out.

The treasury felt the first effect of

Pearl Buck Is Serene In Face of Popularity

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(UP)—Pearl S. Buck, whose novel, "The Good Earth," has been the best seller sensation of the last two years, arrived in New York from China today, somewhat perplexed over her sudden elevation to fame.

Mrs. Buck had no more than reached her hotel when a horde of reporters and photographers descended upon her.

"No," she said, "I'm not bewildered by this popularity. After all, I'm 40. And when one gets to be 40, one doesn't care much for that sort of thing. Perhaps if I were young again I'd be thrilled. Now, I'm well. . . I'm very happy that so many people liked my book."

The billion-dollar tax bill bulwark, learning it had taken in $2,631,000 in miscellaneous internal revenue the first of this month—or more than twice as much as on the same day a year ago. Such boosts are expected from now on, contributing thereby to balancing the budget.

The first increase in the currency under the Glass-Borah provision, which allows national banks to use federal bonds of not more than a 3-3-8 per cent interest rate as security for currency issues, was reported. Although the legislation allows for expansion up to almost a billion dollars, this initial reflection was very fractional, amounting to but $166,000 out of a total of $738,877,000 in national bank notes which were outstanding August 1.

Shoe Industry Bettered.

The shoe industry was added by the commerce department to the list, including automobile, textile, cement and tobacco, in which it reports activity has increased.

In a White House call, Roy D. Chapin, chairman of the Hudson Motor Company, informed President Hoover of his belief that the business outlook is "better than at any time" in recent months. Buying power is plentiful, in his opinion, but fear has exerted a retarding influence.

Organization of the federal home loan bank system, to which congress allotted $125,000,000 with a view toward facilitating home building, was up in a talk between the president and Samuel N. Reep, president of the Home Building and Loan Association of Minneapolis. Reep and William E. Best, of Pittsburgh, are among the possible appointees to the five directorships.

The Reconstruction Corporation, which has under consideration a request from Governor Pinchot for a $10,000,000 unemployment relief loan for Pennsylvania, was asked by Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, and New York port authorities for a loan to begin a $75,000,000 tunnel under the Hudson at Thirty-eighth street in New York city.

Directors of the Reconstruction Corporation met again with a committee of rail executives and experts from the interstate commerce commission, on the working out of a three-point plan for increasing employment which would be submitted to railroad executives as a unit for approval.

Atlee Pomerene, the Reconstruction chairman, reported progress on the planning.

TENNESSEE ELECTORS MAKE CHOICES TODAY

One of State's Bitterest Campaigns Marked by Many Kinds of Charges.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 3.—(AP) Their bitter campaigns pursued until the eleventh hour, husky-throated candidates in Tennessee's democratic primary for the nomination for governor turned homeward tonight and prepared to receive from the voters tomorrow an answer to their appeals.

Two decades and more have rolled by since any gubernatorial primary approached the present campaign in animosity. For a comparison politicians hark back to the contest in 1908 between Malcolm R. Patterson and Edward W. Carmack, both oratorical giants. Patterson was the victor and a few days after his formal election Carmack, former United States senator, was shot to death on the streets of Nashville, one of the most stirring events in all Tennessee political history.

Patterson, now 71 years old and a circuit judge in Memphis, is again a candidate for nomination to the governor's chair, which he occupied from 1907-11 and then relinquished nomination for a third consecutive term, following a wide-open split in the party.

Two other war horses and a new comer in state politics also are vying for the preference in tomorrow's balloting. They are:

Hill McAllister, of Nashville, 57, five times treasurer of Tennessee by choice of the legislature, and vigorous opponent of the present administration of Governor Henry H. Horton, which is backing Patterson.

Lewis S. Pope, of Nashville, 54, former state commissioner of institutions and a contestant for the gubernatorial nomination in 1928 against McAllister and Horton, who accepted his resignation.

Rufus Campbell, of Ripley, 29, circuit clerk of Lauderdale county, Congressman Edward H. Crump, leader of the Shelby county (Memphis) organization which is vigorously supporting McAllister, has been made the target for repeated attacks by Patterson's supporters, and in his counter attacks Crump has linked Colonel Luke Lea with Patterson's campaign.

Patterson, he charged, is the "stalking horse" of Lea and Horton.

During airing of Patterson's allegations that the Crump faction was preparing to vote 33,000 negroes in McAllister's behalf in Memphis, the state primary board's meeting was interrupted by fist fighting between Crump and anti-Crump forces. The board adopted a resolution to the effect that in event of a contest it would nullify votes of negroes voted en masse.

Republicans will select their gubernatorial nominee from between John E. McCall, 38, Memphis lawyer and past state commander of the American Legion, and Hal H. Clements, 49, Knoxville attorney and United States collector of internal revenue.

KING FORBIDS USE OF U. S. MATERIAL AT POLLS

ALEXANDRIA, E. G., Aug. 3.—(AP) Major General Edward L. King, commander of the fourth corps army area, said here today that he had issued orders prohibiting the use of federal equipment by Tennessee national guardsmen during the state-wide democratic and republican primaries in Tennessee Thursday.

"The federal government doesn't want to interfere in local elections," was the general's only comment.

4 Carolina Guardsmen Injured by Projectile

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Four members of the North Carolina National Guard, in training at Fort Moultrie here, were reported injured today when a sub-caliber projectile from a 155-mm gun struck a tug which was towing a target.

SUCCESS IS SEEN FOR EXPEDITION ON TREASURE HUNT

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Times Herald is informed that the treasure hunting expedition which sailed from Hampton Roads 10 days ago, hoping to wrest gold, silver and jewels from the holds of the ill-fated Ward Line Merida, at the bottom of the Atlantic, believes it is near its objective.

The paper said the roof of a pilot house lifted to the surface by grappling hooks supported the hope that the Merida had been located, although no marks on the wreckage identified it as a part of the ship which has eluded four previous expeditions.

News of the find was brought here by skippers of two fishing trawlers, who had been operating near the scene of the expedition's enterprise.

The fishermen said the treasure hunters headed by Captain Harry L. Bowdoin found the pilot house roof about 20 miles off Winter Quarter, on the extreme northern end of the Virginia coast approximately where the liner went down after a collision in a fog May 28, 1911. The depth is about 210 feet.

PENNSYLVANIA HOUSE PASSES BEER BILL

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 13.—(AP) The house has passed a resolution to permit manufacture of beer in Pennsylvania when and if authorized by federal law. The vote was 84 to 68.

U. S. WILL PROSECUTE TWO IN RANSOM PLOT

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The United States department of justice today offered to local authorities its co-operation in the prosecution of two West Virginia youths, arrested here after they kidnapped a capitalist and an orphanage superintendent in Leesburg, W. Va., for a $10,000 ransom.

West Virginia authorities advised local police, from Beckley, that an officer was on his way to Richmond, with federal warrants for the youths, issued under the new federal kidnapping statutes.

Inoculation of All Dogs Urged by Health Body

Warning that all dog owners must have their pets inoculated with anti-rabies serum and urging all persons bitten to report the matter to city health officials at once was the aftermath Wednesday of the case of 5-year-old Owen McLoughlin, bitten last Thursday.

W. H. Egan, sanitary engineer of the health department, issued the warnings to the public after the child had passed the danger period. He cited the fact that disastrous results can be expected through delaying to make prompt reports of such cases.

Rattlesnakes Spare Baby Who Petted Them

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Because they allowed themselves to be fondled instead of biting her two-year-old son, Mrs. Lillian Michael Ledbetter is going to keep two large rattlesnakes she found playing with the child. The reptiles, however, will not be regular playfellows for the boy.

Returning after a brief absence she found the child seated on the ground with one rattler in his lap and another allowing itself to be fondled by one hand as it lay on the ground beside him.

Her brother, John, captured both reptiles. One had 15 rattles, the other 18. The man said neither showed any inclination to harm the baby.

Curley Will Stump West for Roosevelt

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—(UP)—Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, original Franklin D. Roosevelt man in Massachusetts, will campaign from Chicago to the Pacific coast for the democratic presidential nominee during September, he revealed tonight.

The mayor will take in his campaign a paragon of the state, accompanying Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., but Curley was unable because of his municipal duties.

The mayor will make his first speech in Chicago, and also will speak in Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Butte, Cheyenne, the Dakotas, Minneapolis, and Dubuque.

"I'll probably have to do quite a bit of flying to make all the stops," said the mayor. He said he would be active in the campaign in Massachusetts after his return.

County Will Enforce Bus, Truck Statutes

Fulton county will seek to enforce state laws governing the size and loads of trucks and buses passing over county highways as the result of action taken by the county board of commissioners Wednesday.

On motion of Commissioner Walter Stewart the board authorized the police committee to purchase a movable set of scales and to assign a policeman to the duty of weighing trucks and buses to see that they comply with the state law in regard to weights permissible on Georgia roads and to take any legal action possible when a violation is discovered. This will go into effect immediately. According to Mr. Stewart this is being done to protect the county's roads from excess depreciation.

PLANE AIDS WOMAN IN RACE FOR LIFE TO OBTAIN SERUM

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. H. McCain, 46, brought here by plane from her home at Shreveport, La., was rushed to a hospital today for treatment of a cancer of the spine which threatens her life.

As she was lifted from the cabin of the plane, Mrs. McCain smiled weakly and said:

"One of the doctors back home said I couldn't make it, but I'll outlive him yet."

Her husband and two sons are en route here by automobile. The trip was undertaken after physicians at Shreveport said she might obtain relief from a special serum developed here. They warned her any strong jar might cost her life and the airplane was chosen to carry her.

The ship left Shreveport yesterday afternoon.

Italy Wants No Lasting Peace, Mussolini Article Declares

BY EDWARD STORER.

ROME, Aug. 3.—(UP)—Italian fascism "casts aside pacifism" because it does not believe in "the possibility or utility of perpetual peace," Premier Benito Mussolini will say in an article to be published tomorrow.

His declarations come at a time of important international negotiations in Europe and it was learned on reliable authority, a few days before an important shake-up in the Italian diplomatic service.

Before the end of the week, it was understood, Augusto Rosso, head of the League of Nations section of the foreign office, will be named to succeed Ambassador Giacomo de Martino, at Washington, de Martino will retire.

Mussolini's signed article, entitled "Political and Social Doctrine," will appear tomorrow in his Popolo d'Italia at Milan, and later will be reprinted in all Italian newspapers.

In it the fascist leader, who recently replaced Dino Grandi as foreign minister after the arms conference and the Lausanne reparations conference, says that pacifism "implies renunciation of struggle"; that war "brings human energies to their full force placing the seal of nobility on people who have the courage to face it"; and that democracy is often more ruinous than a single tyrant.

TENNESSEAN'S DEATH CHARGED TO POISON

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Modeste Pollman, 33, wife of Benjamin J. Pollman, died at her home in an exclusive subdivision early today of what her family physician said was "self-administered poison."

Captain Frank Glisson, chief of the police homicide bureau, who said he could find no poison in the home, withheld a decision on Mrs. Pollman's death pending the arrival of her husband and a son, John, 12, from Meridian, Miss., where the Pollmans own a baking interests.

BETTY GOW, ON LEAVE, SAILS FOR ENGLAND

She has been granted a leave of absence and will return in September.

$1,656,420 IN CURRENCY ISSUED UNDER NEW LAW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Issuance of $1,656,420 in national bank currency—the first under the Glass-Borah rider to the home loan bill—was reported today by the treasury in its statement for August 1.

This legislation, permitting use of government bonds bearing not more than 3 and 3-8 per cent interest as security for currency issues, became effective last week. It would permit national banks to issue a total of $905,000,000 in currency on the new form of security for three years.

On July 30 the outstanding national bank notes amounted to $738,877,000, while on August 1 it had increased to $735,533,843.

WILLFORD DEATH WILL BE PROBED

Police Committee To Hear Charges in Fatal Shooting Next Week.

Investigation of the fatal shooting of L. L. Willford, 30, of 120 Currier street, by Patrolman John Hood, while Willford was assisting in the capture of an escaped convict, will be held at the regular meeting of the police committee of council Thursday night of next week when the committee hears a charge of reckless shooting of a pistol against Hood, Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant said Wednesday night.

At the request of Councilman G. Dan Bridges, chairman of the police committee, Chief Sturdivant made a personal investigation of the shooting and he will bring the results of that probe before the committee, Sturdivant said. The chief said that his investigation disclosed that while the shooting was accidental, the officer may have been a little reckless with his pistol, and the committee should pass on the case.

The shooting happened on Washington street, near the capital. Hood fired at the escaped convict when, it was reported, the fleeing negro made a motion as if to pull a gun and Willford, who was chasing the negro, was hit by the bullet in the abdomen. Willford died Tuesday night at Grady hospital.

Funeral services for Willford will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from the chapel of Brandon & Bishop, Hapeville. Interment will be in Hill Crest cemetery. Willford is survived by his wife, a daughter, Miss Dorothy Willford; a son, Raymond Willford; two sisters, Mrs. L. D. Dismuke, of Moultrie, and Mrs. W. B. Calhoun, of Jacksonville, and a brother, Olin W. Willford, of Montgomery, Ala.

WESTINGHOUSE SALES LEAD IN SOUTHEAST

Competing with the six other district sales organizations of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company in the United States, the southeastern district, with headquarters in Atlanta, it has just been announced, won the first prize offered nationally in the month of May to the sales organization whose employees could sell the greatest number of domestic appliances per individual. The local organization surpassed its nearest contender by three to one.

The campaign was continued through the month of June, and during the second month the prize was won by the southwestern district, with headquarters at St. Louis, but the local organization was successful in holding second place in the race for the second month.

Thomas Fuller, district manager of the southeastern district, announced that the sales surpassed all expectations. The volume of business amounted to $2,922,000 in two months' time. The entire volume was sold by employees to their friends and acquaintances. Among the items sold were 7,248 electric refrigerators, 8,854 electric irons, 4,661 electric fans and 1,021 electric ranges. The total list of items sold amounted to 41,146 domestic appliances.

J. L. McCORD SUGGESTS MEMORIAL BOULEVARD

Construction of a battle memorial boulevard along Peachtree creek connecting Kennesaw and Stone mountains was proposed Wednesday by J. Lawrence McCord, chairman of the Stone Mountain committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

McCord's plan contemplates freeing of Peachtree creek from sewage and making it a clear stream, which is planned in the $100,000,000 sewer program, sought from the federal relief fund. He suggests that the sector from Emory University to the Bobby Jones golf course be the first link in the development, connecting two of the most fashionable sections of metropolitan Atlanta. The plan calls for a roadway on each side of the creek with parks extending from the road to the creek banks.

Tax Collector Held.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The supreme court today remanded W. E. Marion, Orange county tax collector, to Sheriff Frank Kane's custody to await trial in criminal court of record at Orlando on charges of embezzling more than $12,000 in excess fees from the county.

Kitchen Drudgery Is Banished In Constitution's Cooking School

There is a new spirit in the kitchen, a spirit of happiness chasing out the kitchen drudge. No longer does the modern housewife accept the older methods of cooking, methods which might even so ably fit those former days, but are as inappropriate today as old-fashioned brown bread would be if served at an afternoon tea.

The new and modern cooking school to be conducted by Mrs. Kate B. Stafford, sponsored by The Constitution, has brought a vivid, new spirit into the kitchen. Renewed joy in cookery has grown out of scientific study of the wonderful creative opportunities that food preparation offers in what she calls her "Happy Kitchen."

Never did the market bring to the housewife such variety, such unlimited "raw material" for practical experiments in tasty foods. The cooking school will present the possibilities of these to local homemakers and housewives. "Every woman who keeps house," says Mrs. Stafford, "loves to surprise those who gather around her table with some new delicacy, some unusual little touch that heightens the joy of housekeeping, that brings back the ever-evanescent romance of homemaking. These schools have caught the modern trend, the remaking of old into new. That is why I emphasize the happy kitchen idea."

Don't miss the four happy days in store for you during the cooking school, to be held for four days in Keith's Georgia theater, days of thorough enjoyment delving into secrets of food preparation. The school will be August 16-19.

Nothing can go further toward making your home more enjoyable than these wonderful demonstrations in the happy kitchen.

FLORIDA PRISON CAMP PROBE IS COMPLETED

SUMMERFIELD, Fla., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Investigation into prison camp conditions in Florida has been completed. Commissioner Nathan Mayo said today, and he will call the board of commissioners of state institutions into session to hear his report.

The commissioner, who stopped over at his home here while en route back to the capital from a hearing at a prison camp near Kennesawville, said his report and recommendations will not be made public until after the board has heard them and acted.

SIX, FREED OF MURDER,
FACING NEW CHARGES

BRONX, N. Y., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Six white men acquitted of murdering Luke Murray, an Atlanta, Ga., negro, faced new charges in the same case today.

The new charges accused the whites of breaking into the jail at South Point, Ohio, for the purpose of abducting Murray, shortly before his death.

During the murder trial recently, counsel for the accused men admitted they broke into the jail by battering down the door, and that they removed the negro, but denied killing him. They said he jumped into the Ohio river while they were taking him across in a rowboat.

ROOSEVELT DRIVE IN FRIENDS' HANDS

Campaign Personnel
Picked; Jackson Heads
Speakers' Bureau.

BY WALTER T. BROWN.
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt's campaign for the presidency largely will be in the hands of the personal friends he directed his drive for the democratic nomination. Through them the nominee, who will have a hand in all the details, will express himself.

The announcement today that Robert Jackson, of Concord, N. H., would head the speakers' bureau, filled the last vacancy in the important campaign positions. Jackson has been actively working for Roosevelt for more than a year. He, to a large extent, was responsible for Mr. Roosevelt's name being entered in the New Hampshire primary last March 8.

The New Hampshire primary was the first test for democratic candidates. Mr. Roosevelt overcame the odds from former Governor Smith and Jackson was credited with the victory. At the Chicago convention he was one of the most energetic Roosevelt leaders.

Farley in Charge.
At the head of the Roosevelt organization is James A. Farley, chairman of the national committee, who managed the governor's campaign for the nomination. Frank C. Walker, who was an active worker at Chicago and before, is the committee treasurer.

Louis M. Howe, the governor's political secretary, holds no portfolio, but his place as adviser and liaison officer to the governor firmly establishes him in the inner circle.

Accompanying Mr. Roosevelt on all his trips will be Edward J. Flynn, secretary of state, and Marvin McIntyre, who were battling for the governor at Chicago. Mr. McIntyre, who became mayor of New York if Roosevelt removed Mayor James J. Walker. McIntyre, who was Roosevelt's press representative when he ran for vice president in 1920 again is in that position.

Will Play Major Role.
Governor Roosevelt likely will have an important voice in all phases of the campaign, as he has in the two campaigns in which he was elected governor. Only a few weeks after he became governor in 1920, he set his hand to strengthen the democratic organization in upstate New York. Farley then became state chairman.

Every county was organized. A publicity bureau, a newspaper, a year and a half later Roosevelt carried all but a handful of upstate counties. Most of them never had gone democratic before.

Mr. Roosevelt spent all of today at the mansion. A rainy day kept down his queue of visitors. He had lunch with Patrick O'Brien, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Michigan. O'Brien told the governor that Michigan "was not a doubtful state," and that "if all states are like Michigan you are the next president."

ROBERT JACKSON NAMED
SPEAKERS' BUREAU CHIEF
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Chairman James A. Farley, of the democratic national committee, today announced the appointment of Robert Jackson, of Concord, N. H., as chairman of the speakers' bureau for the presidential campaign of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Jackson, who is secretary of the national committee, will make his headquarters in New York at the Biltmore hotel.

CANNON URGES ELECTION OF DRY LAWMAKERS
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., sailing for Europe, today urged the election of United States senators and representatives opposed to repeal of the prohibition laws for re-submission of the question.

"While, of course, the selection of the best man for president is very important," he said, "it is equally important that the prohibition laws be put on the election of congressmen and senators opposed to submission, as the half-way house to repeal and as a direct invitation to repeal, and opposed also to repeal itself, the 18th amendment being far better and more enforceable than any of the proposed substitutes."

MINNESOTANS PROPOSE
SMITH AS INDEPENDENT
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Petitions to place former Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, in the Minnesota political field as an independent candidate for president will be circulated tomorrow, John B. Girones, Minneapolis, said today.

MISSISSIPPI LEADER CALLED TO CONFERENCE
JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Edgar Williams, of McDonough, chairman of the democratic state executive committee, has been summoned to New York to attend a conference between Franklin D. Roosevelt and party leaders on August 11, it was learned here today.

REPUBLICANS SEEKING BORAH'S RETURN TO FOLD
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(UP)—Facing a dearth of spell-binders for the coming campaign, the Hoover high command is angling desperately to lure Senator William B. Borah, of Idaho, back into the republican fold because of the tremendous following he commands.

Borah recently declared he could not support President Hoover in the party platform, showing particular resentment toward the prohibition plank. But despite this, the United Press learned today, there are prospects that the golden-voiced Idaho senator will be out in front before the campaign is far advanced, as in 1928, for $1,800 in Songame Will Purchase Many Pretty Things; First Fifteen Pictures Offered Free.

BY THE SONGAME EDITOR.
Isn't it true that any visit is more successful when you're wearing a by coming hat? And isn't it true that a party becomes an event when you look your best in a gay new dress, with a piece of jewelry to give it the proper touch? In fact, isn't any occasion more exciting when you have the right clothes? You can be sure of having them, and in abundance, too, if you spare a few minutes each day for the entertaining Songame. If you're a wife or mother, you're not hindered in getting your share of the 40 cash prizes, totaling $1,800.

The Songame is not only a pleasant diversion, but a way to turn idle time into profit. No special knowledge is required, and there's nothing complicated or hard about it.

Readers who have delayed taking part in the Songame until now will experience no difficulty in catching up. All of the back pictures have been reprinted, and are being supplied by the circulation department, and by mail. Pictures No. 1 through No. 15 may be had gratis and without obligation. Pictures from No. 16 up are the same price as the issues of The Constitution in which they were published—that is 5 cents apiece.

Newcomers into the Songame will also be glad to get a free list of song titles that is helpful in finding the correct answers. This interesting list can be had for asking at the circulation department, or by mail, when a 2-cent stamp is enclosed with requests.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Answers to Be Published.
Q.—I need 14 back pictures. What will they cost? Will the answers be published with the winners' names?—Mrs. K. B. R., Atlanta.

A.—Pictures from Nos. 1 to 15 are free. Pictures from No. 16 up are the same price as the individual issues of The Constitution in which they appeared—that is, 5 cents apiece. All of the correct answers and the names of the winners of the Songame will be published.

A copy of this interesting list may be had by calling at the circulation department, or by mail for a 2-cent stamp.

INSTRUCTIONS:
$1,800 in cash will be awarded Songame followers who find the most correct song title answers for the 80 pictures, which will be published serially in The Constitution. The first prize is $1,000; the second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $50, and the fifth, $25. There are ten prizes of $10 each, and twenty-five prizes of $5 each.

There is no red tape. It is not necessary to get subscriptions in order to qualify for any of the prizes, nor is it necessary to register. Non-subscribers have the same opportunity to win one of the forty prizes as subscribers. There will be no tie-breaking series of pictures to solve, or extra work of any kind to do. FOREIGN DEBT VIEWS
OF ROOSEVELT SCORED
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—An assertion that "Governor Roosevelt's solution of the foreign debt problem" would "displace $3,000,000,000 worth of American goods" was made today by Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire.

In a statement issued through the republican national committee, Senator Moses said the democratic presidential nominee's position meant the American people in effect would have to pay the debts "out of their own pockets."

The new republican thrust at recent utterances of Governor Roosevelt shared political interest with word that Speaker Garner will return to the capital within two weeks to prepare for an extensive speaking tour as democratic candidate for vice president. Meanwhile, arrangements were completed for President Hoover's notification ceremony here August 11.

Moses, in his statement, said "Governor Roosevelt proposes to reduce our tariffs and to throw the American market open to the debtor nations to an extent sufficient to permit them to make a large amount of profit by paying us approximately $300,000,000 a year."

"It seems to me clear that the governor has definitely in mind doing just what he says—permitting enough foreign goods from the debtor countries to be sold in this country to furnish the profits from which the debts could be paid."

Titles Count.
Q.—... must the winner have the nearest, most attractive and most perfectly drawn as well as the most correct answers, or will it be necessary to draw the pictures at all in order to win?—Mrs. R. B., Athens, Georgia.

A.—The 40 Songame prizes will go to readers who submit the most correct answers, regardless of the appearance of their sets. No artistic skill is needed. The pictures should not be drawn, but should be used exactly as they are printed.

Try, Try Again.
Q.—No. 30 has me stumped. The only title I can think suitable isn't in the list. Will it be telling too much if you were to tell me whether it is among the negro spirituals or among popular tunes?—Mrs. M. B. R., Griffin, Ga.

A.—Put No. 30 aside temporarily. Then try solving it later. The S. E. is sorry, but he isn't permitted to tell where the answers may be found.

No Registration.
Q.—Is it necessary to have registered my name at The Constitution office in order to take part in the Songame?—O. B., Atlanta.

A.—There is no registration necessary in the Songame. Simply clip the pictures and coupons from the paper each day, fill in the coupon with your name, address and the song title you think fits that picture, then send in the complete set of 80 pictures and answers at the close of the Songame.

Few artists have so endeared themselves to the American public as Geraldine Farrar, whose operatic success here and abroad swept her to the heights of popularity. This gracious star finds the Songame "an ideal way to awaken and stimulate the love for glorious song gems that should be our heritage from the immortals."

COUNTY TO ENLARGE RELIEF WORK SCOPE

Enlargement of the scope of its work will be discussed by county representatives on the special relief committee appointed to co-ordinate work of city and county charity relief at a meeting to be held at the courthouse at 10 o'clock this morning. At that time representatives of the city on the committee will discuss plans to establish relief depots patterned after the five similar stations organized by the county outside of Atlanta.

At this morning's meeting it was said Wednesday, recommendations made by the committee will be worked out by both city and county representatives who seek a uniform plan for the charity relief work. Reports on the operation of the five county depots will be read showing that the plan to distribute food as payment for public work has resulted beneficially to a large number of unemployed citizens.

NEW THREAT SEEN FOR TRADE OF U. S.

Britain Expected To Reach Accord With Australia on Auto Tariff.

BY FRANK I. WELLES.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 3.—(AP)—An agreement which would make serious inroads in the American automobile business with Australia was understood to be imminent today when British and Australian negotiators met in the first formal two-party parley of the imperial economic conference in which the London government participated.

Under the reported agreement, Australia would cut tariff rates on British imports in return for preference in the British market on meats and increased preferences on fruit, butter, wines, grain and dairy products.

Australia now makes large purchases of automobiles in the United States. Any such give-and-take arrangement with the mother country would mean the diversion of much of this business to British manufacturers.

The meeting between the British and Australian negotiators gave rise to rumors that the reported accord between the United Kingdom and Canada was being extended to Australia.

It had been understood regulations covering trade terms and specifications, which have been drawn up by the committee on industrial standardization and which especially affect steel, would be submitted separately to the various delegations once Canada and Britain had ratified them.

Most of the trade agreements effected here are expected to take bilateral form, but it was considered necessary for the expansion of the British steel industry that all dominions whatever action they might take on tariff preferences, adopt common standards of manufacture.

Delegates were greatly interested in the new Franco-Belgian trade agreement involving millions of dollars in copper, lead, zinc, hides, skins, office equipment and other articles formerly imported into France from the United States and other European countries.

MAN HELD IN CAPITAL ON MANN ACT CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—A man who gave the name of Edward Workman, 28, and addresses of Columbia, S. C., and Philadelphia, was in jail today on Mann act charges, alleged by police to have been one of a ring operating in Washington.

He was arrested a week ago during a drive by police and federal agents, together with three other men and five women. All but one other man, docketed as Frank Pandolfi, of Philadelphia, and Workman, were released.

in Bay Creek cemetery with F. Q. Sammon, of Lawrenceville, in charge. Garrett is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Garrett; three brothers, T. M., Donald and Parks Garrett, and three sisters, Mrs. Eula Carter, Mrs. H. G. Thompson and Miss Jewell Garrett.

A. J. Webb, of Loganville, who was driving the truck, and J. W. Smoak, of Ben Hill, whose sedan turned over as he sought to avoid a collision with the truck, were said to be in a serious condition at Grady hospital Wednesday. Webb suffered a dislocation of the hip.

Funeral services for E. S. Garrett Jr., 21, of Loganville, who was killed Tuesday night when a brick truck crashed into a building at Marietta and Ashby streets, will be held at 3 o'clock (eastern time) this afternoon at Loganville, and interment will be

Paint Merchant Held
In Death by Alcohol
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(AP)—A paint store proprietor who retained denatured alcohol was arrested today and charged with homicide in connection with the death Saturday of an unidentified man whose body was found on a park bench.

Police confiscated 200 gallons of denatured alcohol in his store.

The prisoner, Abraham Finkelstein, 21, said he sold the alcohol in bottles labeled "poison." He bought it for six cents a pint, he declared, and retailed it for 15 cents, with an extra charge of five cents to customers who had no bottles.

Hearty welcome will be accorded Thomas C. Law, past potentate of Ysaab temple and newly elected imperial outer guard of the Shrine, when he arrives home at 8:40 o'clock tonight from the west coast. Illustrations Potentate Richard N. Fickett Jr. and members of his divan will greet Mr. Law officially on behalf of Ysaab at the Terminal station, and the prominent Atlanta Shrine will be escorted to the mosque by a parade formed under the direction of Adjutant General Charles Cox.

Dewald Cohen, chief rabban of Ysaab, has asked all organizations to meet at the mosque at 6:30 o'clock to put on uniforms and march to the station. Charles Wilson, in charge of the demonstration at the station, has urged all unattached nobles to meet at 8 o'clock at the terminal and join in the welcome.

The parade, led by mounted police, will move on Mitchell street to Whitehall, thence to Peachtree and the

Headlines Warn of Accidents, Value of Insurance Protection

Yesterday morning's Constitution carried on front page this headline: "Truck-auto crash on Marietta kills 1, injures 2. Collision at Ashby intersection fatal to Loganville youth." Looking back in newspaper files during the past year or more, we find such headlines as these:

"One dead, five injured in crash at Hampton, Ga."

"One killed, three injured in auto crashes at Pelham on Sunday."

"Young man killed, girl injured in accident near Americus, Ga."

"Girl killed, man hurt, as auto hits pedestrians at Dublin, Ga."

"Four hurt in series of auto mishaps in Atlanta."

"Three injured as truck and car crash here."

Such quotations could be made that would not only fill this column but possibly the entire page if all the accidents in Atlanta and Georgia that have been reported in newspapers were quoted during the last 4 or 5 years.

How many of the persons who were slain and maimed dreamed that disaster would single them out? How many had made adequate provision for protecting their homes in time of injury and for safeguarding the security of their families?

Are you yourself insured against the accident menace? Is it your duty to protect your loved ones against its constant peril? Do it today!

Just remember this: The Constitution offers you the famous $10,000 travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago. This old and reliable concern has already paid to Constitution policy holders over $150,000 in claims during the past 10 years.

At no time have over 10 per cent of The Atlanta Constitution subscribers taken advantage of this insurance. Had it been 100 per cent the claims paid would possibly now be over a million and a half dollars. The registration fee, which is only $1 per year per policy, provides for payment of sums ranging from $10,000 in case of death resulting from certain accidents; heavy cash payment for permanent injuries and $100 indemnity for total disability resulting from the stated accidents, and the cost is only about 2c per week. A train wreck, a crash of automobiles, the speeding wheels of an onrushing car, or a burning building, may leave you a victim of the ever-growing wave of accidents today.

This $10,000 travel and $1,000 auto and pedestrian accident policy is issued to subscribers of the daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate,

EVER SEEN AN AD LIKE THIS?

Sir Loin Steak lb.	11c
Milk qt.	4c
20 lbs POTATOES	15c
2 lbs. HAM center cut	23c
UTOPIAN STORES
Fancy Groceries
Fresh Meat

We've never seen such an ad, either. But if other prices had gone down with the same consistency and at the same rate as the cost of electric lighting in your home, such an advertisement would not be extraordinary today. Prices would be just that low.

For, since 1913, THE COST OF ELECTRIC LIGHTING IN THE HOME HAS BEEN REDUCED 57 PER CENT.

If steak of the sirloin variety, which was selling for an average of 25 cents a pound back in 1913, milk, bread, ham and potatoes had gone down as much, their prices today would be just about as you see them listed in our imaginary advertisement.

The greatly reduced cost of lighting has been due to two things: an increase of 71.8 per cent in the efficiency of electric lamps (we admit you can't do much to improve the efficiency of a sirloin steak) and A DECREASE OF 26.3 PER CENT IN THE COST OF YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE.

This chart shows graphically the comparative trends taken since 1913 by the general cost of living and the cost of electric service in homes served by this Company.

While the cost of the commodities displayed above, as well as the general cost of living, is still far ABOVE the prices of 1913, the cost of electric service is far BELOW what it was in pre-war days, one of the very, very few necessities of life about which that can be said.

Electric service is the outstanding bargain in a year that's filled with bargains!

MOTORCADE PARTY HALTS AT WAYCROSS

Headed by both of Georgia's senators several score of motorists from Atlanta and the vicinity in a motorcade were resting at Waycross, Ga., Wednesday night at the end of the first of a four-day trip from "capital to coast."

Senator John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal, which sponsored the trip, and Senator Walter F. George, together with Captain J. W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway board; Mayor James L. Key, of Atlanta; Secretary of State John B. Wilson, W. J. Venable, of Moultrie, and Lawrence Camp, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, were only a part of the distinguished group which left here Wednesday on the good will trip.

More than 50 automobiles made up the parade of vehicles which lined up for the start. Included among them were tire service trucks and a wrecker to care for tire and motor failures, while a physician was a member of the party to care for personal injuries. Macon was the first stop for the travelers. They were met there by a reception committee headed by Mayor C. Glen Toole. The party stopped there 20 minutes for refreshments and then continued to Perry and Hawkinsville. A stop was made at the latter place for lunch.

During the afternoon the motorcade made brief stops at Eastman, McRae, Lumber City, Hazlehurst and Baxley. At Waycross a banquet and dance awaited the travelers as part of their entertainment program. Today the group will proceed to Milledgeville, Brunswick and St. Simons Island. Friday will take the travelers to Darien and Savannah, where additional entertainment has been arranged. Saturday the group will start the trek for home with Statesboro, Louisville, Sandersville and Milledgeville on the route.

The trip has as its objective the purpose of fostering good will between the towns along the all-paved route from Atlanta to the coast.

dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 60 at the small registration fee of $1. per policy per year.

Those living in Atlanta and suburbs not finding it convenient to pay $1 in advance can have this insurance at the rate of 20c registration fee with the application and 20c per week thereafter for 5 consecutive weeks in addition to the subscription price.

One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for his paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Those taking the daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a postoffice or rural route delivery for one year, are eligible by paying the $1 registration fee per policy above the subscription price.

In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, the full christian name must be given and relation of same to the insured stated.

DEMOCRATS GAIN IN MISSOURI VOTE

Champ Clark's Son Far in Advance of Howell, Hay in Senate Race.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The largest vote of any primary ever held in Missouri was recorded in yesterday's election.

With approximately 1,000 of the state's 4,195 precincts still unreported, the Associated Press tabulation tonight totaled 744,181 votes. The highest previous total was in the 1928 primary, when there were approximately 685,000 votes.

The democratic vote showed the biggest increase in yesterday's election. Tonight's tabulation of ballots in the democratic senatorial race totaled 448,586, compared with the record of 395,000 established in the 1928 democratic primary, in which James A. Reed and Breckinridge Long waged a bitter fight for the nomination for United States senator.

Returns from 2,508 precincts tonight showed a total of 246,882 votes were cast in yesterday's election for republican governor.

Overcoming the lead rolled up by his opponent, Charles M. Howell, in Kansas City, Colonel Bennett C. Clark, outspoken wet, tonight swept into an increasing lead as belated returns from yesterday's senatorial primary were tabulated.

Charles M. Hay, long identified with the prohibition cause in the state, was running far behind both his principal rivals, Clark and Howell, in the 4,195 precincts in the state, including St. Louis and Jackson county (Kansas City), practically complete, gave Clark 170,481, Howell 135,961, and Hay 83,697.

Howell, backed by the T. J. Pennington organization which delivered whole precincts in Kansas City for its late ally, the late Governor B. H. Winter and Secretary of State Charles U. Becker for the republican nomination for governor.

When 2,508 precincts had reported, they were still almost neck-and-neck with 89,743 for Becker and 88,069 for Winter. Both were well ahead of Leo E. Koehler, avowed wet, who had 69,070.

Becker, long a colorful character in Missouri politics and one-time "dime novelist," relied chiefly on a strong personal following throughout the state to offset Winter's administration backing.

Francis M. Wilson, Pendergast candidate, made a runaway race of the democratic gubernatorial contest, piling up a 2-to-1 lead over Russell L. Dearmont, "anti-boss" campaigner.

The republican senatorial primary was even more of a walk-away for former Mayor Henry W. Kiel, of St. Louis, a wet, who easily outdistanced Dewey J. Short and Robert J. Kratz, his nearest contenders in a field of six.

Congressman Joseph B. Shannon, investigator of an investigation into alleged activities of the federal government in business, led 56 democratic aspirants for the 13 places to be filled from the state-at-large. Shannon, once an opponent of Pendergast but now his chief lieutenant, benefited from the record-breaking Kansas City organization vote.

Congressman J. C. Dyer, H. F. Niedringhaus, J. J. Menlove and David Hopkins, republicans, appeared under re-nomination. Of the dozen democratic incumbents, only Shannon, J. J. Cochran, Ralph Loefer, Clarence Cannon and Jacob Milligan—were among the leading 13 in their party's vote.

50 Grocers Form Volunteer Food Stores In Atlanta and Hold First Dinner Meeting

Leading figures at the banquet of the Volunteer Food Stores, an organization of individual retail grocers formed here on a basis of co-operative buying and advertising. Left to right—A. E. Kelley, president of Kelley Brothers Company; Henry King, president of the King-Dobbs Company; Chattanooga, Ga.; H. A. Sewell, vice president of Kelley Brothers, and Fred W. Vallard, vice president of the King-Dobbs Company.

With an official roster of 50 members which the organization hopes to increase to 75 in a short time, and eventually to 150, the Volunteer Food Stores, composed of individual retail grocers of Atlanta, was formally launched at a banquet at the Piedmont hotel on Wednesday night.

Nearly 100 food dealers, including several from Chattanooga, where the Volunteers have an organization, were present. Charles C. Muse, manager of the Atlanta organization, presided. At the speaker's table were A. E. Kelley, president of Kelley Brothers Company of Atlanta; Henry King, president of the King-Dobbs Company, wholesale grocers of Chattanooga; H. A. Sewell, vice president of the Kelley Brothers Company, and Fred W. Vallard, first vice president of the King-Dobbs Company, all of whom made talks explaining the system of operation of the Volunteers which are a co-operative buying and advertising group.

Talks were made by O. T. Camp, Mr. Leach, of Barrett & Leach; Mr. Lyle, of Echols & Lyle; J. H. Merritt, J. F. McNair, Mr. Morris, of Kelley Brothers, and Mr. Sewell, of Kelley Brothers.

Visiting Volunteer members from Chattanooga were present and told what the organization has accomplished there. The meeting was marked by enthusiasm. Mr. Muse said the Atlanta organization started with 25 members, who quickly grew to 35, and then to 50. Some of them were signed on the eve of the meeting, he said.

List of Members:

The headquarters of the organization are at 248 Foundry street. Mr. Muse announced the following 50 retail grocers as members, 48 of whom he said attended the banquet:

G. W. Anderson, Smyrna, Ga.; Hancock Bros., 630 Tenth street, N. W.; Barrett & Leach, Peachtree road; L. H. Baldwin, Smyrna, Ga.; Banister & Smith, Marietta street, N. W.; T. G. Brooks & Son, 738 Jefferson street, N. W.; Buchanan & Green, 1169 McLendon avenue, N. E.; C. E. Bennett, Hapeville, Ga.; Camp Grocery Co., 792 Cascade avenue, S. COAL OPERATOR UPHOLDS AGENCY

Firm's President Says Economic Conditions Justify Organization.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Economic conditions justify organization of a joint selling agency, John D. Francis, of Baltimore, president of Appalachian Coal, Inc., testified today in the government's anti-trust suit before a three-judge federal court.

Citing distress and suicidal competition in the coal industry and increasing competition from oil, gas and water power, defense witnesses contended the selling agency was essential.

The government is seeking to dissolve Appalachian Coal, Inc., for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Francis was on the stand most of today, after William J. McGarry, of Washington, manager of the car service division of the American Railway Association, and H. M. Evanson, of Pittsburgh, consulting mining and civil engineer, had upheld defense contentions.

Francis left the stand for a few minutes, and Ed Moore, Roanoke, Va., coal traffic manager of the Norfolk & Western Railroad, expressed the opinion the selling agency did not constitute a monopoly, but would relieve distress in the industry.

Moore said competition from other fields would prevent Appalachian Coal, Inc., from resulting in any great price increase. Francis denied the organization was in any way connected with similar proposals in other fields.

Judge John J. Parker, senior circuit judge on the court, said several weeks would be required for study of the record before a decision in the case could be expected.

TRADE MEET SEEN AS BLOW TO ARMS

U. S. Hopes Economic Conference Will Be Step Toward Real Reduction.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The administration hopes that the forthcoming international economic conference, in addition to opening the way for an improvement of business conditions, will prove to be one of the steps leading to a reduction of world armaments.

This is one of the points that is being considered at the state department and the White House, where thought is being given to the qualifications of a group of men from which will be chosen the three American members of the separate committees that will plan the conference and survey the economic and financial phases of the problem.

The announcement of the personnel of the group will be withheld until the time and place have been fixed for the preliminary meetings.

Already there is agitation for the appointment of a silver expert. Senator Smoot of Utah, called at the White House today and after talking with the president said he had urged that Mont Perry, of Salt Lake City, be named as one of the experts.

"I believe something will come out of this international conference that will stabilize silver," Smoot said, "and I believe nothing could be more important to the financial situation than such a stabilization."

While silver undoubtedly will figure largely in the discussions, they will be broad enough to cover virtually the whole economic field. Specific tariffs will be barred, as will be international debts, the administration having taken the attitude that these matters are things for each nation to work out itself. This view was transmitted in informal discussions that preceded the formal invitation for this country to take part.

WORLD COURT REFUSES NORWEGIAN DEMANDS

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Denmark was informed today that the World Court at The Hague had refused a Norwegian demand that Danish officials be prevented from using their policy authority in part of Greenland occupied by Norway.

The newspaper Berlingske said the result was pleasing to the Danes, but that it was impossible for a fair court to reach any other conclusion.

DRY LAW FATE SEEN IN CONGRESS RACES

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Robert M. La Follette Jr., United States senator from Wisconsin, in Buffalo today said he believed the congressional elections this fall far more important than the presidential election in determining the future of prohibition.

"Both houses of congress now are overwhelmingly dry," he pointed out. "If those senators and congressmen who have been voting dry and who are running again this fall are replaced by senators and representatives pledged for repeal, the machinery quickly can be set in motion for a change." He was sure it was a question of time only when the liquor law will be modified and eventually repealed.

Dentist Kills Self

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Dr. Clinton R. Robinson, dentist, formerly of Chicago, killed himself this afternoon by firing into his head while seated in the rock garden in Bayfront park. He would have been 60 years old tomorrow.

ENTRIES POUR IN IN NORGE CONTEST

W. D. V. Hopkins, of the Hopkins Equipment Company, Norge distributor here, said Wednesday that record entries are being received in the Norge Electric Refrigerator $25,000 cross-word puzzle contest. Several times, he said, he had wired the factory for additional contest booklets. The contest will close on August 27, and there is yet time to enter, Mr. Hopkins said.

The Norge cross-word puzzle contest consists of fifteen simple puzzles which follow the conventional form. Prizes, it is announced, will be paid in cash, $500 to each of the winners in the fifty divisions of the United States which have been determined according to density of population, rather than by state boundaries, thus giving all entrants an equal chance to win.

Paris Authority Gives High Lights On Winter Fashions for 1932-33

BY MARY KNIGHT.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS, Aug. 3.—Evening dresses that touched the floor and some that featured short trains were displayed at the winter fashion showings Monday when Madame Helene Lyolene signaled "commencez!" to the mannequins in her shop.

Even the little white curtains at the house of Lyolene were fluttering when the showings were opened. Madame Lyolene, whose business success is credited to a revolution and a doll, presented more lovely costumes than ever.

Madame Lyolene's family fortune faded in the gun powder of the Russian revolution and when she was forced to make her own way she tried dressing dolls. From doll dresses she rapidly transferred to costumes for society.

She showed crocheted loose-mesh gimpes worn under daringly-cut evening decolettes, making appropriate dinner gowns. Day time dresses and ensembles featured high necklines, and medium to high-skirt lengths. Fabrics were wool, jersey and crash effects of ribbed materials.

Evening gowns were to the floor and of heavy moire taffeta and velvet. Colors were wines, browns, black, red and blue.

She also displayed removable jackets, cartridge pleats and crystal bracelets cut like small phonograph discs.

Metal, fur-lined buttons were novelties and one attractive feature was a hat, fur-trimmed and shaped similar to the famous hat of Robin Hood.

Three-way costumes featured the Heim collection, a dress, coat and bolero which may be removed one at a time to make a one-piece street or afternoon costume.

Skirt lengths at this shop were long and waistlines high. Removable fur capes, adaptable to

Miss Dallis Becomes Bride Of R. E. Pearl in LaGrange

LA GRANGE, Aug. 3.—Of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends was the marriage of Miss Louise Dallis and Ross Eugene Pearl, of New York, which was solemnized here Tuesday evening at the First Methodist church at 8:30 o'clock before a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, a life-long friend of the bride's family, read the marriage service. The church was decorated with tall palms which were banded on the altar to form a background of beauty for the wedding party.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of music was rendered. Mrs. Emory Herman and Mrs. Arthur Thompson played the organ numbers, and Mrs. J. L. Bradford, aunt of the bride, sang. Miss Gene Farmer rendered two violin solos.

The ushers included Tom Hutchinson, George Johnson, Loyd Bradford, Robert Segrest, B. W. Culbuge and Morris Copeland. Miss Frances Glascock, of Greensboro, N. C., and Miss Jeannette Farmer were the bridesmaids and entered singly. They were gowned alike in models of apple green chiffon trimmed with green ostrich. Mrs. Morris Copeland, of Jackson, was her sister's matron of honor. She was gowned in a becoming model of pale yellow chiffon.

The bride, on the arm of her brother, Leslie Wellington Dallis, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a handsome model of ivory satin made in period style with the new high neckline and long, close fitting sleeves. The gown was close fitting and ended in a graceful court train. The neckline was trimmed with Alencon lace and the veil of tulle was caught around the bride's face cap-shape. Clusters of orange blossoms were used at the back of the cap.

The bride's only ornament was a diamond and pearl circle, the gift of the groom, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of gardenias.

The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his brother, Herbert Pearl, of Coatesville, Pa., who acted as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride and groom left for Savannah where they will sail for New York to make their home.

The bride is the older daughter of Mrs. Dallis and the late Roy Dallis, well-known civic leader and cotton mill executive. Mrs. Morris Hoop Copeland, of Jackson, and Leslie Wellington Dallis, of LaGrange, are her only sister and brother.

Mrs. Pearl, who bears her paternal grandmother's name, and who was born on her anniversary, is descended from several of Troup county and Georgia's leading families. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Louise Leslie Dallis and the late Leslie Wellington Dallis, and the late Captain William Swanson Evans and Margaret Dumas Evans. Her forbears fought with gallantry in the War Between the States and aided materially in the upbuilding of civic, religious and community life in Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia and Pennsylvania, where they have resided since Revolutionary days.

Mrs. Pearl is a graduate of LaGrange high school and later attended Randolph-Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg, Va. She was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity and served as president of the fraternity and vice president of the student body in her senior year. She taught in LaGrange high school for several years, going to Columbia University in New York in 1930 where she received her master of arts degree. She has been a member of the faculty of Garden City Long Island high school for the past two years.

She has always taken a leading part in the civic and social life of LaGrange.

Mr. Pearl is the eldest son of Elsie White and Herbert W. Pearl, of Coatesville, Pa. Her maternal grandparents were Elsie Ferguson and L. Ross White, of Coatesville, and his paternal grandparents were Sara Troup and Eugene Pearl, of Honey Brook, Pennsylvania.

Attending Dartmouth University, Mr. Pearl was graduated in the class of 1925. He is a Sigma Chi. While in school Mr. Pearl was a member of the Green Key Honor Society and was well known on the Dartmouth campus. He is connected with the Lyons and Carnahan Company, of Chicago and New York, in charge of sales.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding ceremony were Mrs. Warren A. Candler, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Thornton, Warren C. Slodd, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Trimble, of Hogsheadville; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Revell, of Greenville; Mrs. Milton Fetter, of San Diego, Cal.; Mrs. William McKay, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Ross White, of Coatesville, and his paternal grandparents were Sara Troup and Eugene Pearl, of Honey Brook, Pennsylvania.

Thursday French Program Announced

The eighth number of the Thursday afternoon French programs for the summer at Emory University will be held in 103 Theology building at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It will include talks by two natives of France, with some French songs interspersed. The attendance on the meetings is increasing weekly as the public is being better informed about them, and it is the desire of the department of romance languages that the people of the city get the benefit of them at a time when other activities of the kind are not in session. The last of the Thursday evening concerts under the direction of Professor Hugh Hodgson was given last week, but the afternoon French programs will continue through August 18.

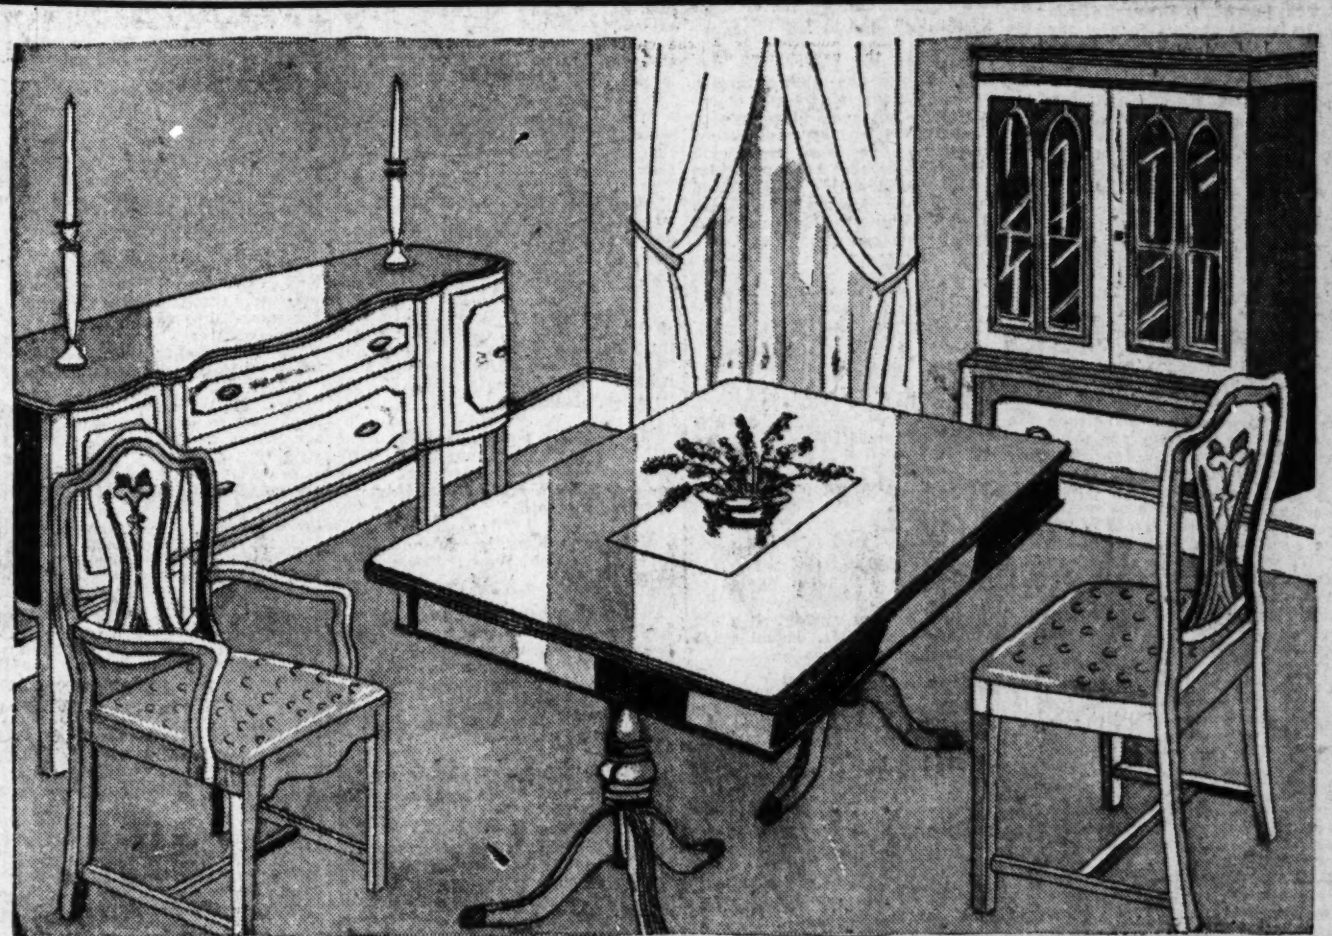

Madame Jeanne Youngblood, secretary of the Alliance Francaise of Birmingham, Ala., who is visiting in the city, will speak on the work of the Alliance Francaise of that city. Monsieur Olivier Vinour, architect and artist, will speak on the famous Angkor-Vat temple in Cambodia in Indo-China. Monsieur Vinour has first-hand information of the temple from one of the princes of the Cambodge who was a student with him in the schools of Paris, and his lecture will have more of the personal on that account. He will illustrate his lecture with specially made drawings of the temple and its environs.

A special feature of the program will be French songs rendered by Mrs. S. G. Stukes. Mrs. Stukes will sing in her collection the "Chant Indou" by Bernberg, and will be accompanied by Miss Florence Smith.

Miss Kitty Kiker Is Feted at Tea.

Miss Kitty Kiker, of Reidsville, N. C., who is visiting Miss Louise Hancock at her home on Clifton road, will be honored at the swimming party and tea at which Miss Hancock will entertain this afternoon at East Lake Country Club. Miss Kiker and Miss Hancock were former schoolmates at Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., and the guests will include a limited number of friends, also schoolmates of this duo.

Miss Kiker was the guest of Miss Dora Aldred before going to visit Miss Hancock and has been feted at numerous informal affairs. She will leave tomorrow for her home and will be joined in Atlanta by Miss Mildred Ponder, of Albany, Ga., who will accompany her to Reidsville, N. C., where she will be her guest for some time.

INSTALLMENT XXX.

Tony thought: People will hear. They'll come to find what the row's about. There'll be a scene. It did not matter.

She said, coming so close that Lee again lurched backward. "Jock Selden is a cad. He kissed me in the car coming home, again and again. I tried to fight him off. He tore my dress. He's a madman. I managed to get my foot against the side of the car and I kicked out the glass. It cut my ankle but it stopped the chauffeur. Jock Selden cursed him and ordered him to go on but before he could start I'd struggled out of the car. I wouldn't get back in it. I walked until I found the hotel."

Lee's laugh was wild and derisive but when she spoke again she lowered her voice: "You've got a nerve. What did you get in the car with him alone for? Why did you think he asked you to sneak out with him all by your lonesome?"

"For the reason I've told you—because I wanted to get away from that house, from those people."

"Say Brooks," Lee attempted to forestall a hiccup but failed. "That simple girl stuff you pull is getting stale. Maybe you was born in a hick town and maybe you was raised on corn meal mush, but you wasn't born yesterday. You wasn't a petting party and you got it. Now you're crabbins'."

Lee staggered into the bathroom and banged the door. Tony's bag was almost packed. She snatched the few remaining articles that were hers from a drawer, piled them into the bag, closed it and hurried from the room, shutting the door noisily behind her. Scudding along the hall, she decided: I'll try to get a train back to town tonight. If there isn't one, I'll ask the hotel to give me another room. There's almost $6 in my purse. If it isn't enough, they'll have to trust me for the rest.

I can send it to them tomorrow.

Aunt Het

Well, I never—why—so it's you, Miss Brooks. Mrs. Higgins stammered. "Shure an' I don't know what was Miss-shure an' I don't know what I did think except it wasn't yourself I'd expectin' to be home on a fine day like this."

Tony saw that Mrs. Higgins held a letter in her hand. Her heart leaped. Tom Stewart! Tom had broken his long silence!

"The letter—it is for me?" Tony asked.

"No, miss. I mean ma'am. Shure and it's added me brain is today." Mrs. Higgins slipped the letter into the pocket of her apron. "An advertisement. I just happened to be holdin' it. They keep sendin' 'em all the time, the Lord knows why. Are ye stayin' here now, Miss Brooks, or is it just stoppin' by ye are?" "I'm staying here, indefinitely."

"This you'll not be livin' with Miss Lee no more?"

"No, I'll be livin' here." Mentally Tony added: Mrs. Higgins is sorry the cat came back and she's glad. After all, this is the only home I have.

"Then I'll be bringin' up fresh sheets and a pillow case." Mrs. Higgins said, obviously delighted to have found an excuse to depart in a hurry. No more sleep for Tony. Impossible. And she had felt so certain that letter was from Tom. "Why?" she asked herself. "It's been weeks since the night he held me in his arms. Weeks. And I feel the warmth of his hands, his lips as if they had just touched me, were touching me now. Stop it. Stop being a fool about a man who is laughing at you if he hasn't completely forgotten you. It's ignoble to be so weak."

She would work on a sketch. Drawing could absorb her. Another evening gown. Something lively to chase away the gloom. She stroked her hair, curving there. No, that won't do. Rub, rub, rub. I'll try simpler lines—Oh heck! How did I ever come to do that!

Tony tore the paper from the board.

BABES ON BROADWAY by JANE DIXON

She found she would have time to catch a local at 3 o'clock if she could find a taxi. When she had almost given up hope one drove up to the hotel stand.

The train had begun to move, the conductor was swinging onto the steps, when Tony raced down the platform. He shook his head but she held onto her bag with one hand and clutched the hand rail with the other. He pulled her up on the steps, grumbling about everybody being in a "devil of a hurry nowadays and taking a chance on losing their jobs, and a little time they don't know what to do with when they save it."

It was past 7 Sunday morning when Tony inserted her key in the door at the top of the clipped stone steps and stole up Mrs. Higgins' stairs so that she would not disturb the household. There was coffee on the shelf, a box of lump sugar and some stale crackers. She had cleaned out the cupboard when she went to stay with Lee. Slender fare, after the elaborate dinner in the winter garden of the Lombard last evening and the expensive and unusual foods spread upon the beach house buffet the night before.

Tony's limbs were heavy with weariness. Yet sleep was far from her eyes. She undressed mechanically. I've tried to stop her. She won't be in lukewarm water and applied an antiseptic salve. Better to have a bad ankle than to submit to the embraces of Jock Selden. Infinitely better. She stretched her body at length on her narrow bed and found her shoulder was stiff. She must have strained it in the struggle to get out of the door. She had been looking for all the world as though she were seeing ghosts.

She must have dozed for she awakened with a start. She sat up, shaking off the drug of sleep. Mrs. Higgins stood inside looking for all the world as though she were seeing ghosts.

"To the phone, if not she and the others are coming after ye." Mrs. Higgins delivered the message through the closed door.

"I'm leaving," Tony called with decision. "I don't know when I'll be back."

"But ye was just after tellin' me ye was stayin'!"

"I've changed my mind. I'm leaving at once."

"Niver did I see such a stubborn girl."

(Copyright, 1932, for The Constitution.)

She had drawn the woman with the fiery red hair and the revealing black sheet of satin. The woman who had sulked all evening at the beach house. And she had meant to do something lively.

At 10 o'clock Mrs. Higgins panted upstairs—the buzzer was out of order—to tell Tony she was wanted on the telephone.

"It's Miss Lee," Mrs. Higgins said. "Tom's been herself gathering together her drawing materials. Tell Miss Lee I will not answer." She could hear Mrs. Higgins' protesting wheeze.

"But she says as how it's important."

"Just give the message please, Mrs. Higgins. I will not answer."

"Now there ye are, you two girls have bin an' spatting amongst ye. An' a shame it is, you sharin' the same bed and board."

The party on the phone is waiting, Mrs. Higgins.

"It's stubborn as an ox ye are, Miss Brooks, and 'tis well ye git over bein' it," Mrs. Higgins gave an indignant frown to her apron and lumbered heavily down the stairs.

Tony had reached a crossroad. She told herself: It's lucky I've come this far with so little damage. I've got to turn Lee from my life. It's going to be hard—I've come to have a real sister's affection for her. She's drifting—fast. I've tried to stop her. She won't be in lukewarm water and applied an antiseptic salve. Better to have a bad ankle than to submit to the embraces of Jock Selden. Infinitely better. She stretched her body at length on her narrow bed and found her shoulder was stiff. She must have strained it in the struggle to get out of the door. She had been looking for all the world as though she were seeing ghosts.

"To the phone, if not she and the others are coming after ye." Mrs. Higgins delivered the message through the closed door.

"I'm leaving," Tony called with decision. "I don't know when I'll be back."

"But ye was just after tellin' me ye was stayin'!"

"I've changed my mind. I'm leaving at once."

"Niver did I see such a stubborn girl."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Today's Recipes.

Crab Meat Salad—Crab meat combined with diced cucumber, diced celery and mayonnaise used as a stuffing for ripe tomatoes, served with a garnish of toasted salted almonds is especially enjoyed when served with toasted rolls or muffins. They may be served plain or sprinkled with cheese, as desired.

Tuna Fish Salad—Tuna fish combined with celery, chopped green pepper, pimiento and mayonnaise makes a pretty summer luncheon salad when served on asparagus tips, garnished with slices of fresh tomato. This salad calls for tiny whole wheat muffins, crisp aratoga flakes and iced tea.

WIFE PRESERVERS

You can label your jelly glasses with paper labels, or write right on the glass with specially-made pencils, which may be bought at the stationers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(AP)

Wheat jumped almost 3 cents from the day's low point. The soaring of grains was simultaneous with a sweeping advance of the stock market.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1 5/8c to 1 7/8c.

above yesterday's finish, corn 1-18c to 1-12c up, oats 1-8c to 1-2c higher and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

Corn and oats rose with wheat, although earlier, influenced by additional rains, both the feed cereals outdid the season's low price record.

Provisions were neglected.

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. on publication day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time 20 cents
Three times 17 cents
Seven times 15 cents
Monthly 12 cents

In estimating the space of an ad, figure six average words to a line.

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and estimates made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification. The Constitution reserves the right to revise or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directory on memorandum charge only. In return for this courtesy, advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 40

As the great ape leaped from the stage, a terrified audience expected to see the man in the box its easy victim. Instead they saw the bronzed giant placing his arm soothingly about that shaggy neck.

The nearest heard him speak some meaningless sounds. Meaningless to them, but evidently the ape understood. Its menacing actions changed to docile ones; it whimpered softly and gently grasped the man's shoulder.

When the lights again went up the man had disappeared. Later Pat's father learned he was Lord Greystoke. "Well known in London," said the captain's friend, "but better known in Africa. There, he chooses to live in the jungle, almost naked."

"The natives claim he is half ape, himself," laughed the friend. Pat forgot all this as the exciting sailing day arrived. But time came when she recalled it, for she was destined to meet the ape-man in his own jungle—and not as his friend.
